

Society Hill Synagogue is seeking Hebrew School teachers for multiple classes between Pre-K and 7th Grade. Our teachers are dynamic Jewish educators excited about helping to inspire a new generation of Jewish learners.

Schedule

- Saturdays (Shabbat) 9:15 am-12:00 pm and/or Tuesdays 4:00 pm-6:15 pm
- September - May

Compensation

- $35/hour and up, commensurate with experience and education

Qualifications

- Working knowledge of Hebrew language, including vocabulary and prayer. Fluency is a plus.
- Knowledge of Jewish culture, customs, traditions, history, and Torah.
- Experience teaching in a Hebrew School, Jewish camp, or youth group is preferred, but not required. We are a dedicated group of teachers who like to help one another!
- A collaborative work style and ability to work as a team member.

About the Ann Spak Thal Hebrew School

Society Hill Synagogue's Ann Spak Thal Hebrew School welcomes students of diverse backgrounds and approaches to Judaism. We guide students through a comprehensive study of what it means to be a Jew in the 21st century. From studying Torah to B'nei Mitzvah preparation, spiritual reflection to engagement with prayer and song, ethical debates to Israeli dancing, age-old holidays to current events through a Jewish lens, trips and special guests to Jewish culinary exploration in our kitchen – we offer a Jewish journey like no other!

Our students come together from various backgrounds to pursue a Jewish journey on which they learn about history and modern milestones, roots and traditions, language and literature, and ethics and values. Our dynamic teachers encourage students to express themselves in different ways and to ask questions and seek answers through a variety of tools.

Operations Amid COVID-19

- All eligible students and staff at our school must be vaccinated and, if eligible, boosted.
- All students and staff are required to be masked inside our school building.
- Outdoor and virtual options are explored as needed based on COVID-19 numbers and rates in the city of Philadelphia.
